1. Strategies for Growth

Strategy 1: Enlarge product lineup through reorganization and improved efficiency of development activities

Renovation of product development activities in Japan

- Shorten the development-to-launch cycle by reexamining the use of personnel and making extensive use of outsourcing
- ·Launch new brands and use existing intellectual property

Update the model for alliances with overseas development companies

- Outsource primarily development activities for new products belonging to an existing series of games
- Develop high-quality products by having Capcom's development teams work closely with alliance partners

Strategy 2:

Strengthen the online game business, which has much growth potential

Increase activities aimed at expanding PC online game operations in Asia

•More titles – Use popular home video game

•More coverage – Extend operations, which now cover Japan, Taiwan and South Korea, to include China

Increase the number of home video games available for downloading

• Sell games as packaged products and through downloads

Increase earnings by distributing additional content

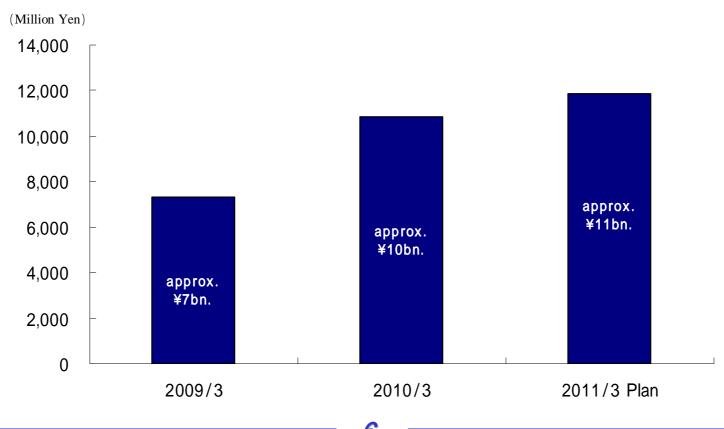

Add more games for smartphones

• Grow by targeting games for both hardcore and casual players

• Use the multi-platform approach to offer games for many types of smartphones

1-3. Strategies for Growth (3)

Achieve steady growth by concentrating resources on online markets

Growth in Sales of Online Contents

2-2. Strategic Objectives – Consumer Online Games

To reach its targets, Capcom will enact business reforms and build the optimum medium-term product lineup by pursuing the following business strategies.

Medium-term goal

Overseas sales ratio of 65% in line with the scale of overseas markets

2-2. Consumer Online Games – FY2009 Performance

Many issues to tackle: postponements of launches of major titles, poor performance of overseas alliance titles and other issues

1. Postponed launches of major titles

- Release of 3 major titles were pushed back in consideration of market conditions and the status of competing titles
- The fundamental problem is a game title portfolio with overweight on a particular time period
- 2. Weak performance of titles developed with overseas partners
 - · Poor sales of 2 new games: "Bionic Commando" and "Dark Void"
 - Problems caused by inadequate know-how about supervising outsourced operations and overly optimistic plans

3. Start of Online contents business

- "Monster Hunter Frontier Online" for PC is off to a good start in Japan and other areas of Asia
- Additional download contents for home video game software is beginning to contribute to earnings: "Resident Evil 5", "Street Fighter IV" and other titles

2-2. Consumer Online Games – FY2009 Sales

Repeat products accounted for most sales due to the postponement of major title launches

2-2. Consumer Online Games – FY2010 Strategic Objectives (1)

Build a sound game development foundation for the next stage of growth by reforming internal production activities and making effective use of outsourcing

1. Reexamine the game development organization and systems to enlarge the lineup

- (1) Make internal development activities even more efficient
 - Create games faster by using a hybrid approach combining internal and outsourced development

= Increase the number of new franchises in each FY by shortening the development-to-launch cycle for major titles

- · Introduce new brands and use existing intellectual property
 - = Allocate 20-30 % of development investments to new brands
 - = Revitalize brands by introducing "Marvel vs. Capcom 3", "Okamiden" and others
- (2) More rigorous oversight of overseas development companies
 - ·Work on securing overseas resources and increasing overseas sales
 - Develop games that combine "overseas input" and "Capcom input" by having
 - Capcom's development team work with overseas partners
 - ·Reinforce quality confirmations by using Capcom's Quality Control Section

2-2. Consumer Online Games – FY2010 Strategic Objectives (2)

Aim for rapid growth in PC online game market and downloading business while also continuing to focus on packaged software market

2. Enlarge the business model by concentrating on online game business

- (1) Strengthen PC online game development activities
 - 'Use the success of "Monster Hunter Frontier Online" in Japan to enlarge the user base
 - = Capture synergies by simultaneously distributing a PC version (¥1,400 per month and additional fee per item) and Xbox 360 version
 - ·Start operations in more overseas countries, chiefly in Asia
 - = After South Korea and Taiwan, aiming to enter China, the world's largest market
 - = Joint development of "Mega Man Online" with Neowiz Games Corporation of Korea
- (2) More online capabilities for home video game software
 - Deepen ties with users and generate a steady stream of earnings by selling additional download content
 - = "Super Street Fighter IV", "Lost Planet 2" and other major titles
 - ·Maximize opportunities for earning profits by increasing the digital distribution of software
