

November 19, 2002

The movie “Resident Evil ” made ¥16.8 billion at the box office on a worldwide basis!

—The movie has its origin in game software “Resident Evil”—

We are pleased to inform that the movie “Resident Evil ”, which was made from game software “Resident Evil”, has been making over ¥16.8 billion at the box office on a worldwide basis (¥2.2 billion in Japan) as of September 30, 2002.

“Resident Evil” and its sequels as well as its franchise are achieving more than 20 million units since its initial release of March 1996 in the market.

The movie “Resident Evil ” became a big hit throughout the world because a famous actress Milla Jovovich, appeared in “Fifth Element” and “Jeanne d’Arc”, played its heroin and called for more attentions to the movie.

The movie was put on the screen all over the world, first in U.S. in March 2002, and in Japan in August 2002.

AMUSE PICTURES, Inc, who is a film distributor in Japan, will release its DVD in January 2003.

The company maximized its efforts to capture the movie features with their experienced promotions.

Capcom will release new title “Resident Evil Zero” for Nintendo GAMECUBE in November 2002, and “Resident Evil 2”, “Resident Evil 3” and “Resident Evil 4” will be released next year.

Hype for the movie success will surely help game software sales.
