Capcom Commits to the Expanding PC Game Market

Plans are in place to distribute Capcom games worldwide via Valve Corporation's Steam™ network

Capcom Co., Ltd. is pleased to announce that it will commence distribution of many of its popular game titles to the PC market via Valve Corporation's Steam™ digital distribution service, making it the first major Japanese software publisher to sign on with Steam™.

Steam™ is a fully-featured system for distributing a wide variety of games and other digital content to PC users around the world. To date, Steam™ has distributed content to over 13 million customers. The first of Capcom's hit titles to be distributed via Steam™ are "Devil May Cry 3 Special Edition", "Onimusha 3", "Lost Planet" and "Super Puzzle Fighter II Turbo HD Remix".

The PC game market continues to grow overseas, and Capcom sees this as an excellent opportunity to further expand its share and its user base in the market.
