Capcom Honored with 6th Placing on the Web Site Ranking in 2007

- Positive evaluation as "Understandability", "Web site ease-of-use" and "Depth of information" -

Capcom is pleased to announce that its web site was awarded 6th placing on Nikko Investor Relations Co., Ltd's "Web Site Ranking in 2007".

The "Web Site Ranking in 2007" determines the ranking of web sites from among 3,988 publicly listed companies in Japan based on the three categories of "understandability", "web site ease-of-use" and "depth of information" to meet users', especially investors', demands, selected from 113 evaluation categories used in the ranking.

This research data is being used as a reliable source of data and is to be adopted as a benchmark of "depth of disclosure and website" in NEEDS-Cges being conducted by Nikkei Media Marketing, Inc.

We renewed our corporate home page and have improved accessibility by updating "Update Information" and "News page" to establish corporate function and accessible website design in accordance with website standards.

In addition, we have improved on voice-related functions for voice-enabled browsers specifically with consideration to the elderly and people with disabilities to meet Japanese Industrial Standards (JIS). We have also optimized our search engine system and introduced advanced web technology such as the distribution of financial results presentation in flash video format.

Furthermore, in an effort to strengthen our website content, we have updated our corporate social responsibility (CSR) pages as well as features that enable the user to calculate Capcom's stock yield, allowing the website to be accessed in six languages to improve global disclosure efforts. These efforts have enabled our website to receive high evaluation scores.

One of our priorities in IR activities is to strengthen information disclosure practices in our homepage. In order to enable us to implement this objective, we have always striven to uphold strict disclosure standards.
