Capcom is First Among All Listed Companies in “Investor Relations Site Ranking 2009”

- Capcom receives high marks for innovative disclosure activities that include analyst opinions and other third-party information -

Capcom is pleased to announce that its investor relations site was awarded first place on Gomez Consulting Co., Ltd’s “Investor Relations Site Ranking”.

The “Investor Relations Site Ranking” determines the ranking of web sites from among 3,834 publicly listed companies in Japan based on the four categories of “web site ease-of-use”, “depth of corporate finances/financial statement information”, “depth of organization/strategy information” and “detailed disclosure of other relevant information”. Gomez Consulting has a highly regarded reputation for its ability to analyze web sites and provide valuable insights as well as offer consulting services.

Capcom firmly believes in its responsibility as a publicly traded company to disclose relevant information in a timely manner to shareholders and investors. This is also vital to corporate governance and Capcom has always striven to uphold strict disclosure standards.

Capcom’s goal is to create an investor relations web site that gives investors and other visitors a complete and well-balanced understanding of the company’s activities and objectives. Numbers, graphs and explanations are used to present information about the company’s markets, business activities and other aspects of operations. In addition, the web site features many components that give visitors more insights into Capcom’s activities. For example, visitors to the web site can listen to interviews with game developers, who are the nucleus of Capcom’s competitive edge, and watch excerpts of hit games from previous years.

The web site also presents information from sources other than Capcom. Visitors can see information on the consensus of analyst opinions, how analysts evaluate Capcom and other information. By supplying a variety of information from objective sources, Capcom allows investors to view information about its operations and performance from many perspectives. This was a key reason for the number-one ranking of Capcom’s investor relations web site among the sites of all publicly owned companies in Japan.

Capcom continues to focus on establishing responsible investor relation practices and procedures to promote timely disclosure in order to improve investor relations and to maintain a high level of transparency in its business practices as a listed company.
