Capcom Announces its Tokyo Game Show 2020 Online Title Lineup!

- Pursuing global sales growth via proactively leveraging its major brands -

Capcom Co., Ltd. (Capcom) announced the lineup of titles it will exhibit during Tokyo Game Show 2020 Online, Japan's largest video game event scheduled to run from today, Wednesday, September 23 through Sunday, September 27.

This year marks the first online Tokyo Game Show, and Capcom will deliver new information, including details regarding upcoming new titles, via two programs; the first program, called Capcom Special Program, will air on the Tokyo Game Show 2020 Online official website, while the second program will be a special, live broadcast given by Capcom and called Capcom TGS Live 2020.

In addition to flagship titles such as Resident Evil Village, which was announced for next-generation platforms (PlayStation®5, Xbox Series X) and PC, and Monster Hunter Rise, an all-new title for Nintendo Switch, the broadcast will also feature Monster Hunter Stories 2: Wings of Ruin for Nintendo Switch. Also scheduled to be shown are Devil May Cry 5 Special Edition, a next-generation platform launch title, and Street Fighter V Champion Edition, which is globally recognized for its position in esports.

Further, the season opener and first episode of Street Fighter League: Pro-JP 2020, Japan's premier team-based league featuring Street Fighter, will be broadcast on e-Sports X, a hugely popular esports competition held annually at Tokyo Game Show. Beginning with the second episode, all subsequent episodes will be broadcast Fridays at 9 PM (JST) on Capcom Fighters JP, one of Capcom's official YouTube channels.

Capcom is committed to delighting fans by releasing its titles for platforms best suited to the characteristics of each game and will continue to pursue its multiplatform strategy through which it leverages its brands across multiple devices.
